

ONEIDA
'58

Carol Schaffer '63

Foreword

Through these doors we all entered—raw, young, frightened. Through these same doors we must leave as seniors, prepared to breast the world. Behind them we leave the tears, the laughter, and the disappointments of six years. That this year may not be lost in the hurried oblivion which lies ahead, the Oneida here records it in picture and in story.

DRAGON HI-LITES

The official school newspaper, published nine times a year, tried to encourage an interest in journalism among the students. Its editorials stressed good sportsmanship and wider participation in school activities. Original student themes appeared at intervals in the columns of the paper.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Three organizations sponsor and direct all-school activities such as the spring and Christmas dances, entertainment of parents, the annual school fair, and May Day. The Student Council consists of representatives from all grades, with the officers chosen from the senior high school. Membership in the Boys' and Girls' Leagues is limited to the three upper grades, but is open to all students in those grades. A special project of the Girls' League this year was the adoption of a Korean war orphan.

Senior Honor Society

Seated—Strobeck, Brown, Moyer, Swartzlander. Standing—Degling, Bowersox, Hildebrand, Bender, Diefenbach.

Membership in the National Honor Society is a recognition of high scholastic achievement—an average of ninety for juniors and eighth grade, and eighty-eight for seniors and freshmen. Additional criteria for selection are character, service, and leadership, and the number of members may not exceed fifteen per cent of the class.

The senior section compiled a record of the achievements of all past members of the society and started a scrapbook which will be a history of the local chapter since it became an active chapter.

Junior Honor Society

Library Staff

The Library Staff is a volunteer organization of students who render valuable service to the school. They assist the librarian in filing, shelving, mending, and checking books. At some time during the past year, each girl was responsible for the display on the library bulletin board. Some members of the staff attended the Teen-Age Library Club meeting at Penn State, where they exchanged ideas with other student librarians.

Photography Club

Amateur photographers learned to develop their own negatives at the meetings of the Photography Club. Members of the club sponsored dances to earn money for equipment.

The junior historians were divided into two groups, the Eighth Grade section being called the Herbert E. Stover Junior Historical Society. This group was interested primarily in local history. The members collected stories of interest about Lewisburg and vicinity and visited several nearby places of historical significance. The Ninth Grade section made a special study of a number of events connected with ancient history.

Art Club

Members of the Art Club spent their time on individual projects expressing their own interests. Some worked in oils; others made such leather objects as quivers for arrows and scabbards for guns. Creativity and originality were stressed.

First Row—Mrs. Sandel, Boney, Strause, Harris, Treas, Shimmel, Diehl, Swinehart, Mrs. Miller. Second Row—N. Stover, Hassenplug, Shields, Conrad, G. Cotner, B. Harris, Evans, E. Future Homemakers of America

The Lewisburg chapter acted as hostess to chapters from Snyder and Union Counties for a mid-winter rally, at which Joy Hackenburg, who earlier had been awarded a state degree in homemaking, was elected president of the two-county organization. Members of the local club packed baskets of food for needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. An innovation this year was a Mother-Daughter Banquet in the form of a tureen supper.

Future Farmers of America

In addition to carrying out their own projects, the members of the Lewisburg chapter of F.F.A. participated in the parliamentary procedure and the tractor-driving contests conducted by the SUN District. Three boys, Donald Fogel, Michael Karnow, and Donald Wert, placed tenth in the honey extracting demonstration at the Pennsylvania Farm Show. James Wert played in the F.F.A. Band, members of which were drawn from chapters throughout the entire state. The boys added to their treasury by selling Christmas wreaths which they had made. In all its activities the Lewisburg chapter tried to follow the creed of the national organization.

Archery Club

First Row—Gordon, Carroll, Daubert. Second Row—Whiteman, Griffith, Marvin, Wagner, Brouse. Third Row—Stahl, Broadt, Rein, Pawling, Judy.

When weather permitted, club members competed in target shooting. Several of them gained additional experience by joining the Buffalo Valley Bowmen, a group which is trying to increase the popularity of archery as a sport. The school archers held several money-raising activities to buy new equipment.

Future Teachers of America

Seated—Zartman, Reish, Enck, Weightman, Epler. Standing—Mr. Keister, Mrs. Erdley, Straub, Goodall, Frey, Berge.

Future Teachers of America is a nationwide organization for the recruitment of teachers. The local chapter is open to anyone interested in the profession. Members try to acquaint themselves with all phases of teaching. This year the Lewisburg chapter held a joint meeting with the Selinsgrove chapter and visited a number of elementary schools in the district.

BUSINESS EDUCATION CLUB

Those students interested in business careers received much valuable information and aid through the Business Education Club. Several speakers from the business world addressed the group about those habits of work and personal appearance desired by employers. Also interesting were various films on careers in business.

JUNIOR

The Christmas Concert of the Senior Chorus, sacred in character, was presented in a church setting. The musical numbers were supplemented with tableaux depicting the Nativity. The entire program was made possible through the joint efforts of the Chorus, the Dramatic Club, industrial arts and art classes, and the various advisors. The chorus entertained teachers of Union and Snyder Counties at the annual Institute and visited neighboring schools to present concerts for the student bodies. The Junior High School Chorus offered experience to those not yet eligible for the senior group.

CHORUS

For the bands, 1957-1958 was a year of several firsts. The Senior Band won acclaim for its unusual half-time shows at football games. At the last game of the season, the Junior Band made its first marching appearance. Both bands took part in the winter concert, but the spring concert was a joint effort of the Senior Band and the Senior Chorus; the junior groups gave their own separate performance. Another first—Lewisburg High was host to the South Central District Band. Eighteen members of our Senior Band participated in this event.

THE MASQUE

The cast of "Jade"—Jane Bowen, Barbara Esch, Judy Clarke, Judy Clavell, and Maureen Eagan—pose in a Chinese curio shop.

Jade

Two one-act plays, "Jade" and "Even Exchange," were given in assembly. Members of the dramatic club joined the Senior Chorus in presenting "The Holy Boy" at Christmas. They provided the setting and the tableaux for the cantata.

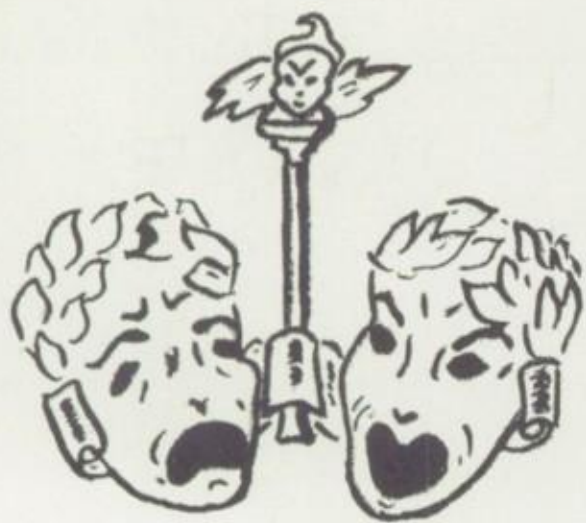

Russell Dennis and Warner Bouton take charge of the lighting effects for the Christmas festival.

Ruth Headley is very neighborly toward Margie Blair and Harry Dietrich, who are having financial troubles in "Fair Exchange."

Even

Exchange

Presenting gifts to the Christ Child are the Magi—Laru Moyer, Pete Kepple, and Glenn Clarke. Judy Clarke portrays Mary, and Stan Sholley is Joseph.

Martha Martin, Mitzi Brown, Joan Adams, and Jane Bowen apply make-up for the tableaux.

The Holy Boy

Painting the window for the church setting are Bob Bender, Gale Goodall, and Ruth Headley.

Excitement ran high throughout the gridiron season as Lewisburg chalked up its first undefeated record in history. The Dragons opened the season by tying their arch-rival, Mifflinburg. In the second game Milton and Lewisburg battled to a scoreless tie. After defeating Bloomsburg by one touchdown and Jersey Shore by two, the Dragons continued their winning streak to overcome the remaining opponents by one-sided scores. Because of inclement weather a number of games were cancelled, and Lewisburg shared with Lewistown the championship of the Susquehanna League.

Several players were chosen for the Susquehanna all-star team, and Ben Zimmerman received honorable mention for the all-state eleven. Ben and John Donahoe received awards as outstanding players on the line and in the backfield respectively.

John Donahoe is tackled on his way to a first down.

Varsity Basketball

Failure to score on away courts plagued the Dragons, who turned back every league opponent except Sunbury on the home floor. The squad played spirited, aggressive basketball throughout the season, losing the majority of the games dropped by only a few points. A smashing victory over Mifflinburg recaptured the Brown Jug, lost in the first encounter with our rivals from the neighboring town. Another highlight of the season was the fine shooting performance which sent Bloomsburg to defeat by a close margin. Graham Showalter, Bob Kribbs, and Larry Francovich were the leading scorers.

The Junior Varsity showed improvement as the season advanced. Although they were on the losing end much of the time, they did not lose their determination. Gale Reish was high scorer for the baby Dragons, who compiled a 3-11 record in league play.

A scramble for the rebound.

Wrestling

The third season of interscholastic competition ended with the best record to date for the Lewisburg matmen, the squad winning eight out of eleven meets. The school thus placed fourth in the recently formed Keystone League. Jim Wetzel, captain of the squad for three years, had the best seasonal record—only one defeat in eleven matches. The scores show that few of the contests were close.

Softball 1957

Interscholastic sports for the girls included softball and basketball, with girls from ninth through twelfth grades eligible for play. Lewisburg belonged to the Tri-county Softball League, composed of such traditional opponents as Mifflinburg, Selinsgrove, and Montandon. The basketball schedule consisted of ten games with both varsity and junior varsity competition. For the varsity, high scorers were Frances Moyer, Pat Malloy, and Linda Libby.

Members of the G.A.L. promote sports for girls. They sponsored a Playday for girls from neighboring schools and encouraged attendance at away games. The League contributed toward the new uniforms for the cheerleaders and fostered participation in the intramural program.

Varsity Club

All students who have earned the "L" for participation in varsity sports are eligible for membership in the Varsity Club. The club bought film for pictures of the football games, earning the money by a car wash and by dances. Selling refreshments at basketball games and wrestling matches was another source of revenue. The club distributed programs listing all contestants in home wrestling meets.

Cheerleaders

From Senior High School standing to a Freshman in college is only a matter of a year's time. The Bucknell student body is more or less on display at all times and our local High School Seniors can become prematurely sophisticated from their local environment. Here's hoping they will use wise discrimination in all their hero worship. For all that glitters is not gold.
